

home
16

304 COUNTY ROAD 529

CONTRACTOR MOUNTAIN LOG HOMES OF COLORADO, INC.

BRECKENRIDGE

DESCRIPTION

While searching for a site on which to build their mountain home, Kansas City residents Lynn and Doug found this wooded lot close to the town of Breckenridge. And after meeting the staff at Mountain Log Homes of Colorado, they knew they had found the right team to make their dream home a reality. The couple fell in love with Pioneer Log Homes of British Columbia's large, handcrafted Western red cedar logs and decided to incorporate them into their home's design. Breathe in and look up as you tour this home to appreciate the aroma and beauty of these extraordinary logs.

Doug also wanted central gathering spaces for family reunions with the couple's three grown children, outdoor living space where they could enjoy their Ten Mile Range views, and lots of room for the family to cook and enjoy meals together. Kitchenscapes helped the couple design a gourmet kitchen with a large central island.

Light and fresh air were also priorities for the homeowners. They got both with a large wall of low-E windows in the great room, as well as operable windows thoughtfully positioned throughout the home to ensure good airflow. Strategically placed task and mood lighting highlight the unique log features, while four fireplaces—including a wood burner for log-cabin authenticity—provide warmth during the cold winters.

Each of this home's bedroom suites has a unique theme. The bunkroom, which sleeps six, features genuine multicolored Pendleton blankets and animal-themed lighting. The natural stone on the fireplaces and bathroom tile contribute to the home's sophisticated lodge feel. The game room is yet another great gathering space and features a wet bar, log pool table, and access to a covered paver patio complete with a hot tub and gas fireplace.

The entry foyer was designed to highlight "Peace Offering," a bronze sculpture created by the late artist Walt Horton. The homeowners have given their own special names to the whimsical animals found throughout their home, including "Benjamin Beaver," who was hand-carved into a log tail on the deck. Says homeowner Lynn: "My dream is that everyone who visits may find a wonderful peace and feeling of warmth and love surrounding them."

DIRECTIONS

From Main Street in Breckenridge, turn left on Boreas Pass Rd. and continue for 1.2 miles. Turn right on Illinois Gulch Road, then right onto Boreas Pass Road (CR10) for 0.5 miles. Follow as the road bears to the right beneath power lines. Turn right on County Road 529 at the "Road Narrows" sign. Follow to #304.

HIGHLIGHTS

- 3,600 square feet
- 4 bedrooms, 4 full baths, 2 powder rooms, 1 car garage
- Handcrafted Western Red Cedar 17"-average-diameter logs from British Columbia
- Eastern White Pine 9"-16" random-width distressed CARLISLE wide-plank floors
- Alder cabinetry, Wolf and. Sub Zero appliances, custom copper range hood
- EnergyStar® certified

SPONSORS

Title Sponsors

Pioneer Log Homes of British Columbia
Kitchenscapes By Kathye Conti

Accoustical Flooring
Austin Bluffs Lighting
Bath Solutions/Martz Supply
Bohemia Tile/Tile On Fire
Carlisle Wide Plank Flooring
Denver Glass Interiors
Design Electrical Contractors
Designs by Stonescapes
Home Services of The Summit Painting
HR Services Drywall
Maximum Comfort Pool & Spa, Frisco
Rio Grande Supply
Sierra Pacific Windows
Summit Stone Works
Western Fireplace

CONTACTS

Builder

Mountain Log Homes of Colorado, Inc.
Brian L. Wray
970.468.8683
mlhoc.com

Log Supplier

Pioneer Log Homes of British Columbia
1.877.822.5647
pioneerloghomesofbc.com

Interior Finishes and Furnishings

Karen Wray, Mountain Log Homes & Interiors
970.468.8683

